FINANCE ANDTRADE.

BANKERS AND BROKERS had little or nothing of new interest to communicate yesterday, and in general the financial situation was pretty much as described in our last tion was pretty much as described in our last report. The country calls largely for carrieucy for holdian purchases in general, and for a timeness in partial alar, and in view of the large amount of the large in the same and the large of the second large in word in sample only a shockingly low prices. It would be strange if more than one factor in ten had suptifing to his credit in bank, the majority being convily overdraws. Exchange remains 14 discount buying and par setting for northern, and 14 discount buying and setting for northern, and 15 discount buying and setting for southern. Gold was reporte from them from New York, quoted 1414 [1414], here dealers bid 1134 and transac ed lattle business. Stocks, some, etc. remain quiet, for Memphis tax scrip the buying rate usually quoted by dealers is of 2015 for five and police, 10 add. Sheiby county waterants are quoted 12 gifs, and Tennessee warrants so.

THE COTTON MARKET was gratifyingly active yesterday, sales reaching 4000 bares. Low middling and above were very firm and in cood demand. The Mary Bell will be the attraction at the is her secomplished commander and James Wilson and Henry Shaw are associated in the office.

Captain Washington, in a card elsewhere, guarantees that all cotton shipped from Memphis will be stored in the hold of the Mary Belle and James Howard, as a guarantee scaling damage. against damage.
As will be seen by advertisement, the lifeviid takes the place of the Quickstep in the ower bend trade, the officers of the latter boat seing retains t on the idlewild. Captain J. T.

Washington is her agent here.

The new hull for the Great Republic was to have been hunched at St. Louis Saturday, but owing to the steamer Belle Memphis having been takenout on the ways the launch will not take place until the middle of this e a number of old seamboatmen, par-Qui e a number of our steamboatmen, par-itentarily those engaged in running coal, are her dealy opposed to since watering the Ohlo river. They claim that the project, in ad-pition to being very expensive, is unterly im-practicable.

The John B. Maude lays over till this even-ing, when she departs for New Orleans and all way-landings. The principal items of her cargo up yesterday morning were 712 bales cotton. 16 bags seed-cotton, 218 bags cotton-seed, 270 tobs moiasses, 74 half bbis molasses, 135 keps molasses, 15 bbis sundries, 41 bbis or-ranges, 85 hads sagar, 58 keps sandries, 6 sacks ges, 85 hhds sugar, 58 kegs sundries, 6 sacks the boats leaving port during the day are the Phil Allin, for Friars Polui; Mary Belle, for New Orleans; Charles Morgan, for New Orleans; Geo. W. Cheek, for Helena; Andy Baum, for Cinclinail; Osceola Belle, for Ash-port; St. Joseph, for St. Louis; John B. Maude, for New O.leans, and Rosa Miller, for Arkanfor New O.leans, and Rosa Miller, for Araansasiver.

The following dispatch, received from Evansville last night, settles it that the Idlewild is to be placed in the Lee line, in place of the Quickstep: "The Idlewild leaves to morrow for Mempels, and it is understood that Captain Stack Lee has bought a one haif interest in ner, at the rate of forty-five thoused dollars for the boat. She will run in the Memphis and Chieot City trade in connection with the Phil Allin."

The O cous B lie starts for the upper bends this evening on her second trip. Captain Joylin is delighted with her movements, and feels doubly assured that she can get away from anything that floats in these pars. Capts Andrews and Joplin merit the p dronage of this trade, because they have employed their best energies and displayed wise judgment in building a commodious packet such as will meet the wants of both shipper and merchant. Her passenger accommodations are superb, her officers obliging and attentive, and the Oscoola B-lie is bound to become one of our most popular local packets.

Iguisville Courier-Journal: "Captain E. W. Gould closed a contract yesterday with D. S. Barmore for the huil and cabin ola new side-wheel boat for the St. Louis and Nuples packet company. She is to be 250 feet long, 35 feet beam, and 5½ feet hold, and provided in the best style. Messrs. Ainsley, Cochran & Co., build the boilers, which are to be entirely new, and of the following description: Cylinders, 35 inches, 7 feet stroke; three boilers of Heilman & Bros. best charcoal iron, 39 feet long, 40 inches, datherer. The well-known reputation of all these builders is sufficient guarantee that Captain Gould will have such a boat as the patrons in the trade in which he has been engaged in the last thirty years will appreciate. The older mechanics in this city very well recollect the little side-wheel steamer time and Tide, built here in 1846 by John Cunningham for Captain Gould, for this same trade, who has continued to build and run boats there from that time to the present without interruption. While this boat i have a little more capacity than the first boat in the trade had, it is fair to presume the captain knows about what the trade requires at the present time."

The Evansville Journal says: "It is barely probable that a change of programme will be inade in the running of the Evansville and Cairo packets next week. It is proposed to put the Pat Cleburne in place of the Idlewild, and send the Idlewild to Memphis to run between that city and Chicot City, where they need just such a steamer. If this arrangement is completed, Captain Fowier, with Sid Humphrey, will run the Cleburne, and Ed R. Thomas will continue in the office of the Idlewild."
